The weatherman, slightly saturated with the Spring season, sleepily predicted that the weather for the Santa Clara Valley would continue fair today, tonight and tomorrow, but with local morning high fog.

Seniors Inspect Campus Today

Approximately 500 high school seniors today are looking over SJS as a part of the annual visitation day program, sponsored by the college.

The visitation day, headed by Robert S. Martin, associate dean of students, is designed to acquaint seniors from the San Jose area with admission requirements and give them a general orientation of the college.

President John T. Wahlquist will give the welcoming address to the students who will assemble in Morris Dailey Auditorium at 1 p.m. Don Hubbard, ASB president, will greet them on behalf of the student body.

Dr. Stanley C. Benz, dean of students, will speak on student affairs and extra-curricular activities. Miss Viola Palmer, admissions officer, will explain SJS entrance requirements and procedures to the students. Housing and finances also will be discussed.

Representatives from the Army and Air Force ROTC units will explain their training program and opportunities of the service.

The high school students will visit departments of their major interests from 2 to 3 p.m.

During this hour, counselors, visiting the campus with the students, will meet with Dean Benz, Dean Martin, Miss Helen Dimmick, associate dean of students; Dr. Fred F. Harclerod, dean of instruction; Dr. Lowell M. Walter, chief counselor; Dr. C. Richard Purdy, professor of mathematics; James F. Jacobs, assistant professor of English and Leslie W. Ross, registrar.

Nearly 1000 high school seniors from Santa Clara County high schools will be on campus next Tuesday. This visitation will be an all-day affair starting at 9:30 a.m. with an assembly in Morris Dailey Auditorium to be followed by tours of the campus and departmental visits. After lunch there will be another assembly in Morris Dailey from 1 to 2 p.m.

Showing of Juarez Film To Highlight Today's Activities

San Jose State began its observance of Pan American Week yesterday, commemorating the first International Conference of America. The activities will continue through Friday.

A film, "Juarez" will be shown today in Room 118 of the Engineering Building at 2:30 p.m. The film, starring Paul Muni, depicts the life of Benito Juarez, one of Mexico's greatest social-reform presidents. Juarez has often been called the "Abe Lincoln of Mexico." He held office during the troubled 1860's.

"Around Latin America," a travelogue in color provided by Pan American Airways will also be shown. Preceding the film, Latin American dances will be given by Jean Peterson, Billy Dubois, and Laren Croft.

The week's activities will be highlighted by an address by Dr. J. Howard Craven, associate economist of Bank of America in San Francisco. The address will be presented tomorrow in Morris Dailey Auditorium at 11:30 a.m. His talk is entitled, "Economic Developments in Latin America."

Dr. Craven has served as economist with the State Department and with the planning staff of the Secretary of Interior. He was assigned to La Paz, Bolivia, from 1952-54 by the Institute of Inter-American Affairs, where he served in an administrative capacity in connection with the United States technical aid program.

Following the address, a special luncheon will honor the guest speaker at the Catholic Women's Center.

Exhibits will be shown throughout the week by the National Science and Home Economics departments, and the college library.

Arrangements for the observance have been made by members of the Pan American program committee of the Social Science Division faculty. They include, Miss Clara Hinz, Mrs. Mildred Winters, Edward J. Rogers, Dr. Edwin Flittie and Dr. Leonard Weiss.

Public Relations Group To Meet

Students interested in becoming members of the Public Relations Committee are invited to attend today's meeting in Room 20 at 2:30 p.m.

The invitation was issued by Bruce Carter, student chairman of the group, who stated he wishes to increase the size of the committee from its present 10 members.

Next year's centennial celebration makes the expansion necessary, due to the additional work load.

SJS Blood Drive To Begin Today At Student Union

The SJS Greeks will sponsor a blood drive today in the Student Union from 9:30 a.m. until 2:30 p.m. The drive is being held as a community service project in connection with "Greek Week."

A mobile unit from the Red Cross will be set up at the Union. Students donating blood should not eat anything containing butter for at least three hours prior to the donations, according to a representative from the Red Cross. However, donors may drink coffee or fruit juices before they give blood.

Persons who have given blood during the last 19 days will not be allowed to donate today.

The fraternity or sorority with the highest percentage of its members giving blood will be awarded a trophy. The cup will be presented at the all-Greek dance at the Hawaiian Gardens Saturday night.

Lawton Thomas, of Kappa Alpha, is the chairman of the "Greek Week" blood drive.

"Greek Week" was opened last night when Dr. Otto C. Williams, professor of English, addressed a mass meeting of sorority and fraternity members in the Morris Dailey Auditorium.

Surprise entertainment was presented at the meeting when Marion Brugnone, female Revelries lead, sang, "I Think Its Love," one of the songs to be featured in this year's production.

Other entertainment was presented by "The Clark Biggs Trio," an instrumental group; "The Guys," a vocal group; and the Delta Gamma sorority, which sang a medley of folk tunes.

Topic of Debate, Nationalism Revival

"The Revival of Nationalism in Africa and the Middle East" is the subject to be debated by Harold Unear Serner and Poul J. Svanholm, two Scandinavian students, and Edith Alcock and Hugh Roberts, SJS students, at the annual International Debate in the Concert Hall Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

Serner, 24, was graduated from the University of Stockholm and was the Swedish delegate to the Annual Conference of the International Students Movement for the UN which was held at Geneva in 1954.

Miss Alcock and Roberts won honors in Portland, Oregon last month when they participated in discussions of the American public school system.

Dr. Fred F. Harclerod, dean of instruction, will moderate the debate. Dr. Lawrence Mount is director of the Forensics Organization, which sponsors the annual debates.

One-Act Operas To Start in College Theater, Thursday

The presentation will be repeated April 17, 19, 20 and 21.

"The Telephone" is a comedy concerning two young lovers who finally solve the problem of a marriage proposal over a telephone. The lovers are played by Carole Rossi and Robert Gibbs.

"The Medium" is a story dealing with the motives of frustration, fear and anger as expressed by a medium after a seance. Miss Maurine Thompson, associate professor of music will sing the lead role in the productions. Others in the cast are Jane Ann Fritz, Robert Montilla, Barbara Wells, Richard Styles, Bonnie Boline and Marilyne Price.

Leigh placed first and second in three divisions of the contest's six. He took prizes in the lyric, free verse, and short story divisions. He will receive prize money amounting to $160. He took a total of nine places.

Edith Alcock, junior English major from Sunnyvale, took first and second prize in the sonnet division. She also placed third in the short story division, and fifth in free verse.

James Ahern was awarded first and second prize in the play division. Julia Bolton received top honors in essay. She also placed third in the play division.

Masako Kawauchi received fourth prize in the sonnet division, and third prize in essay.

Further breakdown of the winners is as follows: Rosemary Smith, fourth prize in short story; James Houston, third prize in sonnet; E. Keller, third prize in lyric.

First prize in each of the six divisions is thirty dollars, second third, and fourth prizes are fifteen, ten, and five dollars, respectively. All the divisions except the play and essay awarded four prizes.

The material was judged by English Department faculty members. Top prize-winning material will be included in this year's edition of the Reed, SJS's annual literary magazine, which will be published late in May.

Student Y Invites Everyone to Meet

Everyone is invited to the campus-wide faculty fireside at the home of Dr. Gene A. Waller, professor of psychology, tomorrow evening, according to Dick Sanderotto, Student Y's fireside chairman.

The "Y" is sponsoring the fireside, and persons interested should meet at the "Y", corner 9th and San Antonio streets, by 7:30 p.m.

Rally Committee

The Rally Executive Committee will meet today in the Student Union at 2:30 p.m., according to Jim Cottrell, chairman.

Sophs Support Council Proposal

Agree on Plan To Conduct Two Student Body Elections Next Year as Aid to Participation

The Sophomore Class, at its meeting yesterday, voted to support the Student Council in proposing two student body elections for next year. The vote count was 43-1.

Other colleges have found this system helpful in stimulating student participation, Tom Burns, sophomore representative said.

President Ted Terzakis informed the class that Don Ryan, sophomore representative to the Student Council, would remain a candidate for ASB vice president. He is currently hospitalized due to a stomach ailment.

Terzakis initiated arrangements for scheduling protective dates for next year's sophomore activities. Barbara Dale's committee on speakers met after the regular meeting.

JUNIORS APPROVE BIDS

Bids for the Junior Prom, as prepared by the printer, were approved at the Junior Class meeting yesterday. The dance is scheduled for next month.

The Hi Lo's, who were voted on to be featured at the prom, reported an added expense for their rehearsal leaving the entertainment as not selected. A second choice for the intermission entertainment is the Paris Sisters. More information is needed and another voting will take place at next week's meeting.

Bid sales will begin soon to cover the expense of the prom. The class has to raise more than $700 dollars by bid sales alone.

FROSH HEAR PLANS

The Freshman Class met yesterday afternoon and listened to two speeches—one by Ray Freeman, another by Jerry McCarthy—and also received the latest word concerning its two money-making projects, according to Bill Sturgeon, class president.

Freeman told of the distinct advantages and tremendous enjoyment he had at Camp Winika summer vacation program off the shores of Lake Michigan. He stated that applications can still be obtained in the Student Union.

McCarthy spoke concerning next Tuesday's high school visitation program and stated that 25 more students are needed to act as guides on that day.

Carol Nanney announced that the snow cone stand will not operate on Fridays as had been scheduled previously. The project will begin operations next Monday in the Outer Quad from 10:30 to 1:30 a.m. It will operate on Mondays and Wednesdays at that time until the end of school.

GRAD FEES DEADLINE

In a meeting of the Senior Class Council yesterday, Don Abinante, senior class president, announced tomorrow as the deadline for payment of graduation fees.

Abinante stated that all students who expect to be graduated this June must have their fees paid by this date since there will be no extension.

Al Hahn, Senior Ball chairman, informed the council that the Hi-Tones will be on hand during the intermissions of the dance to furnish entertainment.

Bob Barry's seven piece band will furnish the music at the Senior Day festivities according to Sherry Nuernberg, Senior Day chairman. Tickets for Senior Day will go on sale in the Graduate Manager's office May 7, according to Miss Nuernberg.

Supreme Court Refuses To Review 1953 Conviction of Congressman Bramblett

WASHINGTON — (UP) — The Supreme Court yesterday refused to review the 1953 conviction of former Representative Ernest K. Bramblett (R-Calif.) in connection with a payroll kickback scheme.

The Court's brief order means Bramblett's sentence soon becomes effective. He drew a suspended 4-to-12 month jail term, a fine of $5000 and a year's probation.

Chief Justice Earl Warren and Justice Harold H. Burton took no part in the action.

Model UN Unanimously Accepts Sudan as Member; SJS Proposes Mediation West Iranian Problem

DALE HANST, a pre-legal student, addressed the General Assembly of the Model United Nations last Wednesday night in Russian.

By DON OSBORNE

The final day of the Model United Nations was one of mixed emotions for most of the delegates involved. Some were pleased and others not so pleased.

The day started off with a second plenary session of the General Assembly in the Gill Coliseum. This consisted of reports made to the General Assembly by the different committees and proposals submitted for approval.

One of the biggest proposals was offered by the Security Council. It was a recommendation that the General Assembly admit Sudan as a member to the Model United Nations. The recommendation was voted and passed by a unanimous decision.

This recommendation concerning Sudan is still pending and will be voted on in the fall by the U.N. Consequently the Model United Nations will be larger than the UN by one member (76 compared to 75) until this fall.

CONTOVERSY

Another decision was presented before the General Assembly shortly after the admittance of Sudan. It concerned the present controversy over the possession of West Iran. Both the Netherlands and Indonesia have been disputing possession of this land.

The Trusteeship Council reported that it had agreed to select three nations to mediate this problem. The proposal had been initially introduced by the USSR (SJS) and New Zealand (College of Idaho).

One of the amusing situations that took place during the day was afforded by a delegate from the United Kingdom (Lewis and Clark College). During the General Assembly discussion over the Cyprus issue, the UK delegate rose to a point of order declaring that the UN had no jurisdiction over Cyprus.

DELEGATION "WALKS OUT"

He was ruled out of order by the chair but refused to leave the podium and continued to speak while the chair continued to call him out of order. Finally the parliamentarian gave the signal to the security officers to help him off the podium. He was carried back to his section. Promptly the rest of the UK delegation picked up their materials and walked out.

EDITORIAL

Cheating—Whose Fault?

(Editor's Note—The SPARTAN DAILY published an editorial Wednesday, Jan. 11, entitled "Cheating Whose Fault?" It asserted that unfair exams and too much emphasis on grades are the main causes of cheating. In a recent news release in McCall's magazine the situation is re-emphasized, but in a little different light. Following are excerpts from the article:)

In many cases, we actually are teaching our children to cheat, McCall's charges. Cheaters outnumber non-cheaters today in most United States colleges and high schools.

The magazine placed the blame on students, parents and teachers alike, but placed special emphasis on adults who cut ethical corners, thereby setting a bad example for their children.

Overemphasis has been placed on the importance of marks, the magazine further charges. Such high value is placed on grades that a student will use any means to get an A or B. In the struggle to get a good grade, the student loses sight of the real goals of education.

In nine cases out of ten, the pressure for good grades, with all its attendant bribing and bullying by parents comes from home, not school.

"Many adults are in no position to guide children along a golden educational path, and that is what it amounts to when parents keep a child home from school for a social event only to send the child back the next day with a phony sickness excuse. Equally evil is the father who boasts at the dinner table of cheating on his income tax, 'fixing a parking ticket, or padding an expense account.'"

McCall comments: "Apart from the morality of the matter, think of the waste that's involved: Couldn't the time and effort teachers now spend trying to outwit cheaters be far better used in an all-out attack on the roots of the problem?"

IRVIN J. BEEBE sits before a radio transmitting set in anticipation of receiving messages from other "ham" operators serving the Northern California network. Beebe is not only chief operator, but president of the SJS radio club.

Hams' Ready for Action If Emergencies Occur

By JIM KALLENBACH

"Mayday... Mayday... Mayday!" These were the frantic words the operator called over the microphone. Many miles away an operator, sitting before a maze of electronic gear, heard the urgent SOS call and immediately set about receiving the emergency message. Within a matter of minutes he had relayed it on.

These two operators were not just ordinary radio operators, but members of the Pacific Division of American Radio Relay League. More commonly they're referred to simply as "hams."

These amateur radio operators do an important job, one that often goes unnoticed and unsung by the average person.

They're prepared for service in any kind of situation that might arise.

Last winter when the Christmas floods seriously threatened Santa Cruz, Eureka, Yuba City and Marysville, these "hams" worked for two weeks receiving and sending distress messages. They were on 24 hour duty throughout that period.

Help Red Cross

Another service they often perform is to provide communication for the Red Cross.

They are prepared to go into immediate action in the event of a national emergency.

Then there are other occurances that come up unexpectedly. What happened to Irvin J. Beebe, president of the SJS Amateur Radio Club, is an example of this.

Beebe was operating W6YL, the campus amateur radio station, when over the microphone he heard a Mayday call. The operator on the other end of the line relayed a message that an ambulance and the highway patrol were needed at an accident near Bakersfield. The operator asked Beebe to relay the message to the highway patrol at Bakersfield. Beebe couldn't reach the Bakersfield station, but did reach K6AVC in San Luis Obispo.

K6AVC succeeded in reaching Bakersfield within a matter of minutes. An ambulance and a highway patrol car were soon on the scene. Fortunately no one was seriously hurt.

The SJS station stayed on the air until everything was under control at the scene of the accident. Many amateurs throughout the state were standing by to help if more assistance had been needed, Beebe said.

"A part of the league or network is more commonly known—uses code, such as the Central Valley Net, while others use the phone. Most of the college radio amateurs use the microphone set-up," according to Harry M. Engwicht, associate professor of engineering.

Engwicht presently is not only adviser to the radio club on campus, but also is president of The Pacific Division of American Radio Relay League.

Receives News Stories
There's no end to Beebe's amateur radio duties. Last week Beebe was kept busy receiving news stories on the model U.N. session at Oregon State College by way of radio transmission.

The Oregon radio operator sent the news dispatches each evening from Corvallis following the day's general session.

Beebe's radio "headquarters" are located in the Engineering Building.

Praise for Glee Club

Dear Thurst and Parry:

Congratulations to the Men's Glee Club. Its performance on campus a short while ago was loudly applauded by a standing-room-only gathering of enthusiastic listeners.

In this, my fourth year at State, I could appreciate this performance which was as spectacular as any I've ever seen here.

Gus Lease, director of the Glee Club and each person who participated in the program should be given a vote of thanks for making the concert the tremendous success it was.

I wish the Gus Lease Men's Glee Club lots of success.

I hope that it becomes a traditional part of the ever-popular San Jose State musical repertoire.

More on Voter Apathy

Dear Thurst and Parry:

After reading Mr. Simpson's letter to Thurst and Parry, I cannot help but feel a little disgusted with this type of attitude. Mr. Fancy, for whom I have high regard, did not assume that officers elected from only 10 per cent of the eligible voters would be any better or worse than if they were elected by 90 per cent. What he did say was that a 90 per cent vote is obviously more representative of student body feeling.

How in the world can officers elected by a bare 10 per cent of the voters have any real basis upon which to form an administration fitted to the needs of the student body? You, Mr. Simpson, probably are one of those who feel that it doesn't make any difference whether or not we have a student body government.

I assume this because of your ridiculous reference to a two-headed monkey. As long as you are a member of this college, from the day you start until the day you finish here, you should be highly interested in student body activities. If you are not, then why are you going here? For education's sake alone?

What is the purpose of education if not to prepare us for life in this world? It's not all a matter of books and reports and examinations. Part of education's goal is to prepare you to live in harmony with your fellow man.

This you cannot do if you do not take interest in civic affairs, or in this case, student body affairs.

RON GILPATRICK
ASB 7058

Student Government

Dear Thurst and Parry:

In reference to Mr. Simpson's recent article, I do not see how any "intelligent" student at San Jose State can not know anything about the candidates or the issues. There are several ways you and other students can find out what the qualifications of the candidates are and what the issues really mean.

First, there are the Student Council meetings which are open to the student body. Second, there are the Class Councils which are set up for class government. Third, and perhaps most common, is the Spartan Daily. The paper puts out a special election edition just for those who don't know the candidates and the issues. Mr. Simpson, for one cannot see how any person can say, "I don't vote because I don't know the candidates."

Surely, Mr. Simpson, you don't really mean that student government is of "little interest or of minor consequence," and that if a "two-headed monkey" were elected president he could do little damage. Evidently you do not realize just what the Student Council does here on campus. I think we can correctly assume that if there weren't any student government, we would have no athletic program, so to speak; no school dances or recreation; no school paper to inform the students of campus activities.

Perhaps you should open your eyes and ears and learn what is going on at State. You and other students will have a good chance to do this before the next election. Besides the special edition of the Spartan Daily there will be a special election rally for the purpose of letting you become acquainted with the candidates and platforms. It is hoped that you and "the majority" will plan to attend this rally, and that you will be able to vote intelligently in the coming election.

Ex-Spartan Proves Travel Not Expensive

By SHELBY TREE

Ex-Spartan Jon Markham Morrow, a self-confessed wanderlust, is now back in the United States hoping to attract other Spartans on his travel-on-a-shoe-string journey.

After leaving SJS with an AB in social science, Morrow did graduate work at the universities of Paris and Heidelberg in international relations to give him an insight into the foreign scene he has learned to know so well.

Satisfying his life-long desire to travel and study practical geography, Morrow took a unique land journey from California to Argentina via 15 Latin American countries. He is convinced that anyone who has the real desire can travel despite the lack of funds. Morrow used local transportation, including canoes and horse trails, through Latin America.

The entire price of the tour from San Francisco to San Francisco for the 60 days is $1440.

versions of the Foreign Legion, the real thing is not recognizable," Morrow said. "Although the Legion still has an element of glamor, the members for the most part have nothing to do since there is no war with the Arabs. My biggest shock was that most of the members were not French!" He explained that Foreign Legion members at present are mostly Germans, Slavs and other eastern Europeans.

His tour is intended for 20 persons from 20 to 30 years of age. The 60-day tour originates in Vancouver where the members take the polar route air way to Europe. The tour includes a comprehensive survey of the continent, with ample free time in the major cities for more thorough concentration in areas of individual interest, according to Morrow.

After his Latin American experience, Morrow took a five month lecture tour to Europe telling of his Latin American trip and showing slides of the Aztec and Inca civilizations.

Morrow names his visit to a French Foreign Legion outpost as one of the most interesting experiences in world travel.

MONEY ISN'T EVERYTHING

I have asked the makers of Philip Morris—an enterprising and aggressive group of men; yet at the same time warm and lovable; though not without acumen, perspicacity, and drive; which does not, however, mask their essential greatheartedness; a quality evident to all who have ever enjoyed the beneficence and gentleness of their wares; I refer, of course, to Philip Morris Cigarettes, a smoke fashioned with such loving care and tendered with such kind regard that these old eyes grow misty when I think upon it—I have asked, I say, the makers of Philip Morris—that aggregate of shrewd but kindly tobaccoists, that covey of enlightened Merry Andrews, that cluster of good souls bound together by the profit motive and an unflagging determination to provide all America with a cigarette forever gentle and eternally pleasing—I have asked, I say, the makers of Philip Morris whether I might use today's column to take up the controversial question: Should a coed share expenses on a date?

"Yes," said the makers simply. We all embraced then and squeezed each other and exchanged brave smiles, and if our eyes were a trifle moist, who can blame us?

To the topic then: Should a coed share expenses on a date? I think I can best answer the question by citing the following typical case:

Poseidon Nebenzal, a student at Oklahoma A and M, majoring in hides and tallow, fell wildly in love with Mary Ellen Flange, a flax weevil major at the same school. His love, he had reason to believe from Mary Ellen's sidelong glances and maidenly blushes, was not entirely unrequited, and by and by he mustered up enough courage to ask her the all-important question: "Will you wear my 4-H pin?"

"Yes," she said simply. They embraced then and squeezed each other and exchanged brave smiles, and if their eyes were a trifle moist, who can blame them?

For a time things went swimmingly. Then a cloud appeared. Mary Ellen, it seems, was a rich girl and accustomed to costly pleasures. Poseidon was bone-poor and he quickly ran out of money. Unable to take Mary Ellen to the posh places she fancied and too proud to tell her the reason, he turned surly and full of melancholy. Senseless, violent quarrels developed. Soon it appeared that the romance, so promising at the beginning, was headed for a breakup, but at the last moment, Poseidon managed to blurt out the truth.

"Oh, beloved agrarian!" cried Mary Ellen, grappling him close. "Oh, proud husbandman! Oh, foolish reaper! Why have you not told me before? I have plenty of money, and I will contribute according to my ability."

Poseidon, of course, protested, but she finally persuaded him of the wisdom of her course. From then on they split all expenses according to their incomes. Rather than embarrass Poseidon by handing him money in public, a joint bank account was set up to allow him to write checks. Into this account each week they faithfully deposited their respective allowances—35 cents from Poseidon; $2300 from Mary Ellen.

And it worked fine! Gone was all the arguing and bickering. They were happy—truly happy! And what's more, when they graduated they had a nice little nest egg—eight million dollars—with which to furnish a lovely apartment in Lubbock, Texas, where today they operate the local laundromat.

So you see? You too can salvage your failing romance if you will only adopt a healthy, sensible attitude toward money.

Lucie is no obstacle when it comes to Philip Morris. Popular prices still prevail for this, America's gentle cigarette, whose makers bring you this column every week.

SJS, Stanford Meet Today

Halsey Will Face Indians

Teams Have Split Pair; Williams' Nine Red Hot

Spartan baseballers, on a hot batting streak that has seen them score 42 runs in their last three games, meet Stanford today at 3 p.m. at Palo Alto.

Tuck Halsey (4-2), San Jose's ace righthander, will start on the mound as the Spartans go after their 10th victory of the season. Halsey holds an earlier victory over Stanford, shutting the Indians out here.

Stanford, who has 16 wins against only two losses, probably will start its mainstay, Ray Young. The Indians were defeated by San Diego State. Stanford defeated San Jose in the Spartans' opener.

The Spartans' scoring peak so far in the season came in the COP game Saturday when San Jose scored 24 runs. It was the highest total registered by the local team since 1953 when it scored 27.

Dick Roza, SJS rightfielder, has contributed heavily in the scoring column for State. Inserted into the lineup after regular center fielder Claude Gilbert quit baseball for spring football, the diminutive outfielder has driven in eight runs in only nine time at bat. Chuck Reynolds, who set a new Spartan record by getting his sixth home-run of the season, Saturday, leads the club in runs batted in with 18.

Catcher Jerry Clifford, who has been performing yeoman duty behind the plate, leads the Spartan hitters with a .409 batting average. Bill Rahming, second with a .357 average, set a new school record Saturday by belting out his ninth double of the year.

Starting for SJS today are Clifford, catcher; Halsey, pitcher; Ed King, first base; Stan Beasley, second base; Don Hodgen, third base, and Bill Rahming, shortstop.

Statistics for the Spartans, who have won nine while dropping seven:

Player	AB	H	HR	RBI	Pct.
Dick Roza	9	5	0	8	.556
Jerry Clifford	66	27	4	12	.409
Bill Rahming	70	25	2	12	.357

San Jose State's pistol team has placed fourth in the National Colleague Pistol Match, the United States Revolver Association announced this week.

The Spartan shooters, coached by Capt. William A. Herring, finished behind the U.S. Naval Academy, the U.S. Military Academy, and Texas A&M in the eight-week competition.

Albert Suarez, ace of the local squad, added another feather to his well-stocked can by taking top individual honors. Suarez shot the highest single match score of 298 out of 300 and posted the highest eight-match average of 293.5.

J.V. Golfers Defeated

College of San Mateo defeated the San Jose State Junior Varsity golf team, 14-7, yesterday at Almaden Golf Club. Eddie Duino earned a 75 to lead the Spartans, but honors went to San Mateo's par breaking Bill West and Charles Blackburn who came in with 70 and 71.

JACK CUMMINGS will be one of the members of the undefeated Spartan golf team that battles San Francisco State today. Cummings was high man as SJS tied USC Friday, shooting a 71.

ATO, KA Meet

Showdown Set in Frat Basketball Loop Today

It will be showdown time this afternoon in the Fraternity Intramural Basketball League when Alpha Tau Omega (8-1) takes on Kappa Alpha (8-1) and Theta Chi (8-1) meets Sigma Alpha Epsilon (6-3).

Should Kappa Alpha emerge victorious, the Don Hellmers led crew probably will have clinched at least a tie for the fraternity title. ATO on the other hand runs into rugged Delta Upsilon on Thursday.

Theta Chi, who knocked KA from the unbeaten ranks, will be slightly favored to defeat SAE. However, SAE still retains a chance at the title and plan to give the former quite a race. Theta Chi is led by Dick Zimmerman, while Don Schroeder has been the big scorer for SAE.

In the Independent league the Sparvett-Green Squad—contest Wednesday should decide the championship.

Golf Team To Battle SFS Today

Coach Walt McPherson's varsity golf team, undefeated so far this season, with a record of five wins and one tie will travel north today to meet San Francisco State at Sharp Park. The match is scheduled to begin at 1 p.m.

The Spartan golfers returned from a successful trip to Southern California this weekend which netted victories over Cal Poly and Fresno State and a tie with the powerful University of Southern California.

Thursday SJS racked up a 2-3 win over Cal Poly at Morro Bay as Ernie George of the locals shot a sizzling 70 to gain high honors for the day.

On Friday McPherson's team battled USC to a 13½-13½ draw at the Los Angeles Country Club as Jack Cummings powered a 71.

Glenn Dooley, Charley Leider and Cummings tied for high honors for San Jose on Saturday, each shooting a 74 as the golfers edged Fresno State 15-12 at the Fresno Municipal course. Gil Tabor of the Bulldogs came through with the best score of the day, shooting a 73.

COP, USF Next Foes For Spikers

Fresh from their second consecutive victory over the Santa Clara Youth Center, San Jose State's varsity thineclads are preparing for this week's triangular affair against College of Pacific and the University of San Francisco at Stockton.

Spartan mentor Bud Winter has announced that no Spartan will run his usual event. This means that sprinters like Art Hiatt, who normally place high in the 100 and 220, will run in the 440, while middle distance aces Al Ross and Lang Stanley will run sprints or go in the mile.

Neither COP nor USF, which had only seven men at a meet with Humboldt State and the Cal Aggies last week, figure to give the Spartan spikers much trouble. The Tigers have a fair middle distance man in Jack Marden, graduate of Willow Glen High in San Jose, but other than that the COP thineclads are not in the same class with the Spartans.

Improvement of the Spartan team has been pleasing to coach Winter. Lang Stanley continues to be the top Spartan. Stanley broke the school record in the 440 with a swift 47.9 clocking Saturday. He has run 1:52.6 in the 880 this year and is expected to lower this mark when he gets in competition against the Olympic Club and Fresno State in the next two weeks.

Other personal bests turned in by the Spartans were Ron Gardina's 21.3 clocking in the 220, Ed Bill's 156 foot discus toss. Don Mallinoff continued to show improvement in the discus as he hit 155 ft. 2 in.

SAE Captures Frat Volleyball Tourney

Sigma Alpha Epsilon successfully defended its fraternity volleyball crown by defeating Delta Upsilon, 15-13 and 16-14, Saturday in the finals of the double elimination fraternity tournament.

Sparked by Gary Graham and Gil Baack, SAE rolled through the tournament with only one loss, a 15-12 setback to DU in the semifinals. The winners avenged that loss by whipping the second place finishers, 15-11 and 15-13.

In the opening round SAE downed Theta Chi, 11-9, 11-4, and then dropped Phi Sigma Kappa, 11-5, 11-8 in the quarterfinals.

Members of the championship team are Jack Crabb, Don Schroeder, Ray Bitterman, Frank Phillips, Fred Abrams, Wally Parry, Graham and Baack.

Alpha Tau Omega, defeated by Delta Upsilon in the finals of the losers bracket, nailed down third place, while Phi Sigma Kappa was fourth.

Intramural director Charlie Hardy has asked that students wishing to form an independent tournament should leave their names in the secretary's office of the men's gym. The winner of an independent tourney will play SAE for the college championship.

Seriously Disabled Vets Receive Money In Order To Build 'Wheelchair Homes'

More than 4300 seriously disabled veterans have received federal grants totaling more than $41 million for "wheelchair homes," the Veterans Administration announced recently.

As of Jan. 31, 1956, some 6050 veterans who need the aid of wheelchairs, crutches, braces, or the like, had established their eligibility for these special grants.

Of the 6050, 4327 already have received grants and either have moved into their homes or are in the process of building them. The remainder have not put their plans into effect yet.

VA defrays 50 per cent of the cost of "wheelchair homes" for eligible veterans up to maximum of $10,000, under grants which were first authorized in 1948. The average grant is $9482.

These "wheelchair homes" incorporate such special features as ramps, instead of steps, doorways wide enough to accommodate a wheelchair, special bathroom features and exercise rooms equipped to meet the needs of the veterans.

In order to qualify for these special grants, veterans must be entitled to compensation for permanent and total service-connected disability for the loss, or loss of use, of both legs due to certain specified conditions.

VA also supplies model plans, specifications and blueprints of such specially-adapted homes, which the veteran may use if he wishes.

Smokers Violate College Regulations

Smoking in Morris Dailey Auditorium in violation of the rules concerning smoking in college buildings has become a serious problem, according to Dean of Students Stanley C. Benz.

Violation of the smoking rules not only increases the janitorial work, but constitutes a fire hazard. It is hoped that faculty members who are in charge of activities in the auditorium, especially in the evening, or who have classes there, will do what they can to see that there is no smoking in the auditorium or behind the stage.

Dr. Benz stated that complaints have come to him and he thought it wise to ask instructors for their cooperation as well as that of the students.

"We have been getting good cooperation from the students in relation to the appearance of the campus. Many students eat their lunch on campus, but they have been careful to keep the school looking neat," Dr. Benz stated.
